Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 10 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers continuing overnight, mainly in the west. Drier further east.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers will ease across eastern areas to leave a dry evening with clear spells, but a few showers continuing further west. Overnight, a more organised band of heavy showers will move in from the southwest, affecting Devon and Cornwall. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tuesday:
Showery rain will continue to move northeast during the morning, followed by sunny spells and scattered showers into the afternoon, these heavy and possibly thundery. Windy, especially near the coast. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Unsettled conditions, with sunshine and showers throughout, with heavy and possibly thundery outbreaks later on Wednesday, especially further to the east. Warm enough in the sunshine and mostly frost-free.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.